GOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK. H. T. Griffin's Horses Can Race at Ben-

nings in Another Trainer's Hands. Pending a decision by the Western Jockey Club, H. T. Griffin's horses, when they race at Bennings, will be trained in good faith by somebody other than their owner. The horses have not been ruled off the turf or disqualified, but their entries were refused by the Crescent City Jockey Club, whose meeting closed at New Orleans last Saturday. If the Western Jockey Club now decides to five him a license the New York Jockey Club will follow suit, or if his application is rejected by the former body the same penalty will be inflicted here But Griffin's horses can be entered in all races in the East meanwhile, providing they are not actually preared for their engagements by "Halter Tommy." J E Madden has arrived at Washington with a string of thirty thoroughbreds, including Pulsus, Robin Hood, Gettysburg, City Bank, Whorler and twenty-five two-year-olds. Other stables that have already shown up are those of R. Bradley, H. C. Shuitz, the Goughacres Stable, Frank Brown, Frank Farrell, S. De Lisser and others.

Since the first of January W. Hicks, the colored jockey who will be seen again this season on the local tracks, has ridden twenty-one winners out of fifty-seven mounts, an unusually high average.

By a new ruls recently passed, Starters Fitzgerald and Cassidy, instead of receiving their pay from the several racing associations, will be paid monthly at the office of the Jockey Club, which is taken to mean that the governing turf body, and not the tracks, will make the starters' assignments this year.

Although he has virtually retired from the turf, Senator P. H. McCarren has leased the black filly Black Cat, by Faraday—Alta Blue, from J. L. McGinnis for the Astoria Stakes, a fixture at Gravesend which was practically originated by the Brooklyn statesman and is purely a social affair, the subscribers generally sitting down to a banquet spread by the owner of the winner each year.

This association will be composed of tennis clubs of the city and vicinity. The list of members includes the following clubs: Kings County, Crescent Athletic Club, West Side Club, New York Tennis Club, Montclair Athletic Club and Englewood Field Club. O. F. Hinck of the West Side Tennis Club has been chosen president.

The object of the league is to further the sport among local players. Interclub matches are to be arranged to run throughout the season. The events will be singles and doubles. A committee consisting of Colhoun Cragin of the West Side Club and F. G. Anderson of the Kings County Club has been chosen to prepare a schedule, which will be submitted later for the approval of the league. to organize a league to be known as the Met-

A Change at Baltusrol-Annual Meeting

If the changes can be thoroughly made in time the Baltusrol course for the amateur championship will be increased materially from the length of 6,103 yards. The field off the line to the right of the tenth and thirteenth holes has been purchased and the changes will be made by using this plot. Playing from the tenth tee, the new line will be to the right, to a green 200 yards away, or 80 yards longer than the present tenth hole. An island green is planned, the outflow from the pond before the tee being di-verted to form a brook to surround the new green. The present eleventh tee may be se back, if desired, and the tee for the thirteenth will be moved to the south of the bunker guarding the twelfth green, doing away with the present close order of the play lines of the thirteenth and fourteenth holes. The annual meeting of the Nassau Country Club will be held at the clubhouse on Saturday afternoon, April 2. The nominations to fill the four vacancies in the board of directors are Harvey Murdock, Henry F. Noves, Howard F. Whitney and J. Rogers Maxwell,

A six months schedule of weekly and monthly events has been announced by the Crawford, N. J., Golf Club, which possesses a fine nine-hole course of 3,378 yards. Ned has just returned from Denmark, where he had charge of a links near Copenhagen until the winter and many of the aristocracy were among his pupils.

while the golfers abroad are filling the papers with discussions on the desirability of making the change, the Western Golf Association has taken the step and changed its open championahip from seventy-two holes medal play to a thirty-six hole qualifying round, the best sixteen to keep on at match play, eighteen hole rounds. It will be held at the Kent Country Club of Grand Rapids, Mich., on June 30, July 1 and 2. The dates should suit the Eastern professionals, as the national open championship will be at the Glen View Club July 8 and 9. The amsteur championship of the Western Golf Association has been fixed for the Exmoor Country Club, Aug. 15 to 20.

AMERICAN CYCLISTS ABROAD.

McFarland in the final and Taylor beat him nearly a length.

The Australian officials are in a predicament with their desire to insure fair play for Taylor. McFarland and Lawson are there to ride under contract and are big drawing cards. If they enforce a suspension against them the races will be crippled and the two team mates will immediately go to France. They have each been disciplined several times, but the officials always substitute a fine for suspension and a few fines more or less do not count for much with the men, for they are winning big money.

Meekins is compactly built and is a likely looking customer. His body is very much tattooed. On his breast there is a reproduction of Corbett and Fitzsimmons as they appeared in the ring at Carson City, Nev., in 1897. On his back there is tattooed the coat-of-arms of England.

Meekins tips the beam at 135 pounds. He says that his visit to America is for the purpose of meeting Gans, of whom he has heard so much. Meekins adds that he has enough backing to make a fight interesting if one is arranged.

"For a long time I have been trying to bring about this fight. I have sent telegram after about this fight. I have sent telegram after telegram, letter after letter, to Jim Neil, father of the champion, who does the California boy's business, but to no avail. All my communications and messages have been ignored. I will keep on trying to land a match until I have been assured that there is no chance. My offer to match Hughy against Neil for $5,000 a side, weigh in at 116 pounds at 3 or 6 o'clock on the afternoon of the mill, still stands. McGovern has done good work. He has whipped the best boys in the East, and I think I have got a champion.

Harris, however, had nothing to say of Tommy Murphy of the New Polo A. C., who has been after McGovern for some time. Murphy will be ready with a forfeit as soon as McGovern displays a desire to fight

The first three rounds of the combat were even. In the fourth Gardner woke up and slashed at Ward with a vengeance. The blows came with such speed and consistency that Ward was unable to protect himself. Gardner's best work was in landing jabs. In the fifth round Gardner had Ward almost out, but did not have sufficient strength left to finish him. In the final round Gardner was the aggressor and had no trouble in securing the verdict.

NEW YORK AMERICANS WIN. Defeat Atlanta in a Close and Hard Fought

ATLANTA, March 18.—Both closeness and excitement were supplied to the New York Americans to-day in their first exhibition game of the season. They beat the Atlantas by 8 to 7 in a game uncertain as to outcome. Still, when it came to a pinch, the visitors were right there. Six pitchers played on the Atlanta team, but the latter was reenforced by Unglaub, Thorey and Beville of New York and Bean of Boston, whose respective positions were second base, third hase catcher positions were second base, third base, catcher and shortstop.

The batting was hard on both sides and the fielding good. The Atlanta pitchers are no easy marks. Hughes pitched the first five innings for New York. The Atlantas made no runs and only two hits off him. He was in rare form. His control was perfect and he had speed and puzzling benders. When the southpaw, Puttmann, went into the box in the sixth inning the cinch began the box in the sixth inning the cinch began to evaporate. Puttmann was wild and ineffective. His arm was not in good working order and what with being hit hard and his poor control the locals scored in bunches. In the sixth inning he was peppered for a double, two triples and a single in succession and in the other innings he was wild. However, he struck out seven men. Hughes fanned five. In the run-getting of the Atlantas the borrowed New Yorks were most active. Unglaub was the star of the game. He made two triples and a single and his fielding was fast. He covered lots of ground. Thorey also played well and once a fine catch by Anderson robbed him of a hit. Anderson's fielding in the face of the sun was tiptop, as was Fultz's and Conroy's. Conroy took care of two difficult foul files and batted in the winning run in the ninth inning. He made three hits and Fultz two. Fultz had a number of long hits to chase and he said after the game that his hitherto bad leg was not bothering him at all. Elberfeld was very lame to-day and limped painting.

Will Be Sent if Boats of the Reliance Type Are Barred.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, March 18.—On making inquiries some three mouths ago, Sir Thomas Lipton found it to be the general opinion of British yachtsmen that if the present conditions of measurements should be continued, yacht builders would go on exaggerating yachts of the Reliance type until it would become of the Reliance type until it would become impossible for a challenger to cross the Atlantic. He considers the Kariad about the most typical of the kind of boat he has in mind. Should he receive a favorable reply from the New York Yacht Club to his proposal to bar yachts of the Reliance type from future races for the Cup, he is prepared to entertain the idea of challenging again, if he can find a suitable designer and builder.
